

Name: _____

Date: _____

THE CULTURE: FROM BANGLADESH TO QUEENS

Watch Anik Khan's talk and respond to the questions below.

Reflecting on Anik Khan's talk, how does he emphasize the complexity and significance of self-awareness and social awareness? What insights did you gain about the importance of knowing one's background and cultural roots?

Considering Anik Khan's message, what aspects of your identity and personal experiences might not be immediately apparent to others based solely on appearances or knowledge of your family's background? How does this relate to the deeper layers of cultural identity and understanding?

(continued on next page)

THE CULTURE: FROM BANGLADESH TO QUEENS

In what ways does Anik Khan's discussion on music and entertainment expand our understanding of diverse experiences? How can art forms like music contribute to bridging cultural gaps and fostering empathy among individuals from different backgrounds?

After listening to Anik Khan's story, what new perspectives or insights did you gain about Asian-American culture? How does his narrative challenge stereotypes or broaden our understanding of cultural diversity within the Asian-American community?